The Yukon Spartan NVMT 3x42 Night Vision Monocular YK24122 is an incredible multi-functional unit; both compact and lightweight, this versatile Night Vision Monocular weighs only 22oz.

Powerful IR | Optimal magnification | High light gathering capability

Compact night vision monoculars NVMT

Spartan are designed for nighttime observation and orientation. Device's most prominent feature is the extra powerful built-in IR Illuminator increasing viewing range up to 2-2.5 times. The IR Illuminator enables observation in lowlight conditions and even complete darkness. Use of additional accessories makes the NVMT Spartan especially versatile. With the help of adapters you can take pictures and shoot video clips; changeable lenses will increase magnification of your device. NVMT Spartan 3x42's magnification is high enough to use for long-distance observation, but it is compact enough to fit in a pocket. This affordable, compact, lightweight monocular provides comfortable viewing and versatility for numerous activities.

IR Illuminator

The extra powerful built-in IR Illuminator enables observation in lowlight conditions (no Moon or stars) and even complete darkness (in a fully isolated room, basement etc.).

Housing

The NVMT Spartan night vision monoculars combine enhanced ergonomics, optimal size/weight ratio and high quality optics. The "soft touch" coating ensures reliable grip and protects against environmental effects (moisture, dust etc.). The lens cap can be stored on the backside of the body which prevents it from being lost. Handy layout of operation buttons is another obvious advantage of the NVMT Spartan
